Part 1 Management Of Behavior

- 1) Learn how to effectively manage your dog's behavior, especially in your absence.
- 2) Use a crate when you cannot physically be there to watch your dog. Make sure it is big enough for your dog to move around in, and do not overuse the crate.

Click on the picture below to watch a quick crate training video.

- 3) When you are home, keep your dog in the room with you. It is extremely important to monitor her behavior at all times.
- 4) Using a baby gate is a great way to keep your dog in the room with you.
- 5) Keep a leash on your dog to help control her. If she gets on the furniture, use the leash to pull her off. If your dog steals something, you can step on the leash to prevent chase games.
- 6) Use a chain leash if your dog likes to chew on the leash. (You will need a leather or nylon leash for obedience training.)
- 7) When a baby gate is not available, secure the leash to something sturdy to keep your dog in the room with you.

Are you still struggling to train your dog?

You can teach your dog to stay, walk politely on leash, come back when called (every time), and more...

– PLUS end your dog's unwanted behaviors like jumping on guests, begging at the table, and stealing.

It's easy – and all from the comfort of your own home.

Part 2 Exercise

8) There are two ways to exercise your dog – physically and mentally. Make sure you do both.

9) Take your dog for a daily walk. Dogs need to get off their property and explore their surroundings using their senses (sight, sound, and smell).

10) Make sure your dog gets aerobic exercise. Your dog needs to get his heart rate up and blood pumping. This also allows your dog to burn off pent-up energy.

11) Retrieving games are a great way for your dog to get aerobic exercise. (Note: Use two balls if your dog does not drop the ball on command.)

12) Playing Tug-o-War is a good way for your dog to get exercise and mental stimulation. Make sure you always win the game.

13) Go hiking. This is a great way for you and your dog to get close to nature, enjoy fresh air, and exercise.

- 14) On a hot day, there is no better way to exercise than swimming. Your dog stays cool and gets his daily dose of exercise.
- 15) After some physical exercise, make sure your dog receives some mental stimulation.
- 16) Your dog explores his world through his sense of smell. Allow your dog to sniff and investigate his surroundings with his nose.
- 17) Throw a handful of treats into your backyard. This loose form of tracking will keep your dog occupied.
- 18) A stuffed Kong® toy can provide hours of entertainment. Kong® toys are available at most pet stores.
- 19) Stuff the Kong® with peanut butter or cream cheese and pack a few biscuits into it.
- 20) Teaching your dog some tricks is fun and stimulating for him.
- 21) Teach your dog to find treats around the house. Hide them behind and underneath the furniture.
- 22) Obedience training requires your dog to think and use her brain. Take five minutes each day to do some obedience training.

Part 3

Structure & Leadership

Click on the picture below to watch a short video on establishing yourself as the leader in your dog's eyes.

23) Dogs are social animals. They are also pack animals. In a pack, there is always a leader. Position yourself as the leader.

24) Position yourself as the leader in a non-physical manner by controlling the activities, resources, and needs of your dog.

25) The four most important things to your dog are social contact, playing, food, and sleeping. By controlling these activities, you position yourself as the leader.

www.AmazingDogTrainingMan.com

- 26) Control Tug-o-War games. When playing “tug,” start and finish the game. The most important aspect of “tug” is to always win the game before putting the tug toy away.
- 27) Play retrieving games using two balls. Throw the first ball. When your dog returns, play with the second ball. Wait for your dog to drop the first ball, and only then throw the second ball for him.
- 28) Control your dog’s food by feeding twice a day.
- 29) Have your dog perform a five to ten second sit-stay before eating.
- 30) Don’t free feed. By feeding twice a day, you position yourself as the leader.
- 31) Whatever your dog doesn’t finish should be picked up and put away.
- 32) Only allow your dog on the bed if he is behaving well.
- 33) If your dog growls or refuses to get off the bed, do not allow him on it.
- 34) Secure a leash to the foot of the bed if your dog gets on in the middle of the night.
- 35) Get your dog his own bed.
- 37) Three to four times a week, check your dog’s eyes, ears, teeth, and tail.
- 38) Try to get your dog to voluntarily roll over onto his back. Do not force it.

39) Spend time hugging your dog. A hug is not a natural thing for a dog. In the wild, the only time a dog will get anything close to a hug is when they are getting ready to mate or fight.

Kids love to hug dogs. Teach your dog to like hugs.

40) Everything that we do with our dogs has an effect on their behavior. Training is motivating your dog to do something for you.

41) Whenever possible, ignore bad behavior such as jumping. Reinforce good behavior whenever possible such as sitting.

42) Reinforce behavior by using treats. Ask your dog to sit, and reward her with a tasty treat.

43) When you reward a behavior with something your dog wants, the chance of the behavior occurring again improves.

44) Using your dog's toys is a great way to strengthen behaviors. Do not throw the ball until your dog performs a simple command like sit.

45) Redirecting behavior is a great thing to do. If your dog starts chewing, redirect the chewing to an acceptable object.

46) Punishment should be used sparingly. All things positive should come from you. All things negative should come from the environment.

47) Use a Gentle Leader™ to walk your dog.

Part 4

Health & Nutrition

48) A bad diet definitely affects behavior. Make sure you feed your dog a quality, premium food.

Click on the picture below to watch a quick video on how to choose the right food for your dog.

49) When choosing a food, read the label. Familiarize yourself with ingredients.

50) Choose a food that uses chicken or lamb meal as opposed to chicken or lamb by-products.

51) Foods are usually made with a corn or rice grain source. Corn can be difficult for some dogs to digest. Try a food with rice as the grain source.

52) Foods preserved with ethoxyquin, BHA, or BHT have been linked to cancer.

53) A food preserved naturally with Vitamin E or tocopherols is a better choice.

54) Garlic is a great herb to add to your dog's diet. It is a natural antibiotic.

55) Cod liver oil is also great to add to your dog's diet. It provides essential Omega fatty acids.

56) Supplement your dog's food with a vitamin and mineral mix.

57) Take your dog to the vet for regular checkups.

58) If you notice a dramatic change in your dog's behavior, make sure you have a thorough veterinary exam before hiring the services of a trainer or behaviorist. Be sure your vet also tests for thyroid problems.

- 59) Regular grooming is important. A good groomer will clean your dog's ears, trim her nails, and look for any skin problems.
- 60) Some dogs need grooming more than others. Cocker Spaniel's hair can become thick and matted. This can put your dog in great discomfort and expose his skin to water and moisture.
- 61) Keep your dog free from fleas and other parasites.
- 62) Vacuum your carpets and dog beds on a regular basis. A flea infestation will occur when the fleas reproduce and their eggs hatch in these areas.
- 63) It is important to take your dog off your property regularly. Many dogs go stir crazy by staying in a fenced in area for too long. Other dogs become frustrated, territorial, and may become aggressive.
- 64) Practice food exchanges with your dog, especially if your dog is becoming a resource guarder.
- 65) Practice exchanging a tasty treat for his favorite tennis ball. Give him the ball back after he politely drops the ball and eats his treat.
- 66) Socialize your dog. Dogs are social animals and need contact with humans and other dogs. See if your local obedience trainer offers a dog playgroup.
- 67) Take your dog to doggie daycare.

Part 5

Behavior Problems

A survey of dog owners revealed that when asked what the biggest problems they experienced with their dogs were, they answered jumping, house training, coming when called, and chewing.

JUMPING

Click on the picture below to watch a short video on how to stop your dog from jumping on friends and family.

68) Dogs, being social animals, will greet with enthusiasm. A good thing to do is ignore your dog when she jumps. Fold your arms, look away, and do not talk to your dog. Become a statue.

69) Reward your dog when all four paws are on the ground. Give a treat as soon as your dog relaxes and does not attempt to jump.

70) Do not back up when your dog jumps. Walk into him. Do a quick “cha-cha” step into your dog, knocking him slightly off balance.

71) Make sure you have a NO JUMP policy. Do not invite your dog to jump on you, and do not allow friends and relatives to permit your dog to jump either.

72) Teach young puppies to keep all four paws on the ground. Most jumping problems start when our dogs are small puppies.

73) Put a leash on your dog when guests come over. Step on the leash as your guests come toward your dog. This forces her to keep all four paws on the ground.

HOUSE TRAINING

74) Crate your dog when you cannot physically be there with her.

75) Make sure the crate is just big enough for your dog to comfortably lie down. If it is too big, your dog will relieve herself in one area and lie down on the other side.

76) Make sure you catch your dog in the act of going. Do not punish after the fact.

77) Immediately bring your dog outside, and reward her quickly after she has finished going.

78) Check your dog's diet. Canned dog food may work like a laxative on some dogs.

79) Have a fecal and urine examine by a vet. Rule out any parasites. All physical problems need to be ruled out first.

80) When cleaning up any accidents in the house, make sure the cleaning products do not have any ammonia. Ammonia smells like urine to your dog, making him go in the same spot.

81) Teach your dog to give you a signal. Put a bell on the door and teach your dog to hit it for a signal to go out.

82) Teach your dog by putting a little peanut butter on the bell. When your dog touches the bell, immediately bring him outside. Your dog will quickly learn to hit the bell to go outside.

83) Use 50% white vinegar and 50% water to clean the scent. Another excellent product is Nature's Miracle, found in most pet stores.

COMING WHEN CALLED

84) Your dog needs to develop a sense of freedom. Without that, your dog will never come.

85) Developing a sense of freedom can be done by bringing your dog to a fenced in ballpark or tennis court.

86) Use a long line. Attach a 50 to 60-foot long line to your dog's collar. If your dog does not respond to your "come" command, use the line to guide your dog back to you.

87) Every time you command “come,” make sure you reward your dog for coming. Use treats, praise, toys, etc.

88) Never call your dog and then punish him. If your dog comes to you and then gets scolded, chances are that he will remember that the next time you call him.

89) Make coming when called a game. The more exciting you make the command “come,” the better the results.

90) You can make it exciting for your dog by getting his attention and running away from him. Dogs love chase games.

91) A fun game to play is the Spring Loaded Recall Exercise. Have a friend hold your dog’s collar. Get your dog excited and run away while your friend holds your dog. Face your dog and call “come,” at which point your friend lets go of the collar. Reward when your dog gets to you.

CHEWING

92) Limit the number of toys you give to your dog. It is difficult for your dog to discriminate between his toys and your belongings.

93) Put peanut butter on your dog's toys and bitter apple (found in most pet stores) on some of your belongings. Put the toys on the floor and let your dog learn to discriminate between his toys and your things.

94) Manage your dog's behavior in your absence. Use a crate when you cannot physically be there to watch your dog.

95) Try to catch your dog just as he is about to start chewing, not after he has chewed.

96) Play Tug-o-War with your dog. Many dogs with chewing problems are very oral. Let them use their jaws and teeth on chew toys.

97) Exercise is always a great thing to do with your dog. You need to relieve pent-up energy that your dog stores throughout the day.

98) A great idea is to bring your dog to a doggie daycare, if possible.

99) Another alternative is to hire a pet sitter to come in during the day and take your dog for a walk.

100) Dogs have a physical and psychological need to chew. As a dog owner, you need to provide your dog with outlets so they can use their teeth and jaws in appropriate ways.

101) Please spay or neuter your dog!

A Message From Eric

Dear friend,

If you'd like to have a well-behaved, obedient dog that you can bring anywhere, a dog that sits, stays, walks on leash without dragging you down the street, comes when called every time, and responds to all of your commands, then this might be the most important letter you'll ever read.

Here's why:

I started working and training dogs over 18 years ago. I have worked with dog trainers from all over the world. I have traveled from New Hampshire to San Diego, CA to work and learn from the some of the best.

After working with well over 5000 dog owners, I have learned that dog training can be easy once you learn how to apply four simple steps. In fact, after some study, I have learned that exercise alone can eliminate up to 63% of problem behavior. What most dog owners don't know is that you need to give your dog physical exercise and mental exercise.

When you train with me using The Amazing Dog Training Man's Online Ultimate Dog Training Course, you will learn a unique, effective training system designed to help you train your dog in a fast, efficient, and fun manner, all in the comfort and privacy of your own home.

I want to start training today!

Read on and learn what will be covered in the training course.

"I thought my dog Kimmy was a candidate for canine ADHD before I started training with Eric Letendre. Now she is well behaved, obedient and comes on command. She is also an AKC Canine Good Citizen. It is all due to the training she received with Eric Letendre."

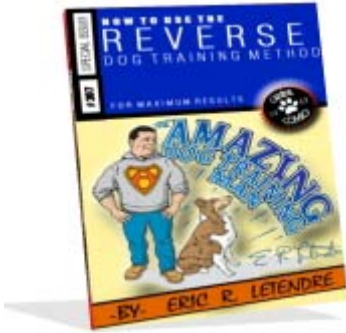

Sarah Arruda

Now, I know you're probably skeptical. That's normal and healthy. Let me give you three good reasons we can back up what we claim:

Three Reasons To Believe What I Say

“The Amazing Dog Training Man”

By Eric Letendre

Reason one: My name is Eric Letendre, I am the author of the book “The Amazing Dog Training Man,” a 15-chapter book covering the most important aspects of training and behavior.

I have provided extensive training, including developing complete dog training programs for numerous animal shelters in New England, and over the past 18 years, I have worked with literally thousands of dogs and their owners.

If there is one fact that I have learned it is this: Dog owners want and need a fast, effective, and fun training program for their dogs. That is why I have developed what I call The Amazing Dog Training Man’s Ultimate Online Dog Training Course.

Reason two: In addition to working with thousands of dogs and their owners, I have also provided training and K-9 consulting work for many different and diverse animal organizations including:

- Potter League for Animals in Middletown, RI
- Hartford Hospital Security Dept. in Hartford, CT
- Placing Paws Animal Shelter in Tiverton, RI
- K-9 Security for Worldwide Plaza in New York

- Animal Rescue League of New Bedford, Forever Paws Animal Shelter in Fall River, MA
- Faxon Animal Rescue League in Fall River, MA

I still provide training and assistance for many of these organizations today.

Reason three: “Eric’s personal style puts everyone at ease almost instantly. His presentation keeps handlers interested and involved. He is able to draw on a broad range of experience. He delivers a method that combines the benefits of positive reinforcement with the traditional obedience that is unique, effective, and fun for all.”

Peter Manning

Now, you’re probably wondering how and why we can do all those things.

Let me explain.

Warning: Do NOT Pay For Dog Training Lessons Unless They Meet The Following 4 Criteria

There is a lot of confusion surrounding the subject of dog training. Most new dog owners inform me that they become very confused by all the conflicting information they receive. That's why I want to give you 4 criteria or elements you absolutely, positively must have in any training you obtain:

One: Experience. I would have to say that very few trainers come from such a diverse background as I do. I have:

- worked as a security patrol dog handler
- worked as an animal control officer
- director of training for one of Connecticut's largest training facilities
- K-9 supervisor
- training instructor for numerous animal shelters

- provided K-9 consulting work for such places as World Wide Plaza in New York
- authored the book "The Amazing Dog Training Man"

You would be hard pressed to confront me with a behavior or obedience problem (or even imagine one) that I haven't had firsthand experience solving.

Two: Humane training methods. We don't use choke, pinch, or shock collars. We only train using humane methods. Beware of any trainer that tells you that you need to use physical force to train. Effective, reliable training is accomplished using proven positive reinforcement techniques. I know this because I've done it.

Three: Proven training methods. As a dog owner you want to know that if you spend money on dog training lessons that it will work. Our proven, effective training program has been used by thousands of dog owners all over New England, and now with the Amazing Dog Training Man's Ultimate Dog Training Course, all over the world.

Four: FUN! Believe it or not, but dog training is supposed to be fun. If you are not enjoying the training process, chances are you will not keep it up. Our training is effective and fun.

I know it's time for me to take action and train my dog.

Now before we go on, I'm sure you probably have some unanswered questions and concerns, so here are some of the most common:

Q. "Can I really learn how to train my dog at home from an online course?"

A. Absolutely, I often tell people that I am not a dog trainer, I am a people trainer. When you attend a class I do not train your dog.

I help the owner train their dog. Many times I never even touch the dog other than to pet him. All the information that I use in my classes is in this course, nothing is held back.

Q. "How does the course work?"

A. I have made it as easy as possible for you. The course is split up into six lessons, just like it would be if I was going to teach you personally.

You can sit down at your computer and choose to either listen to the lesson via audio files, or you can read the information for each lesson.

You can also download and print each lesson. I have video clips to show you exactly how to do the commands. In addition, I have developed what I call key points for each lesson.

The key points are a quick reference guide for you to use as you are training your dog. Once you have a good understanding of the lesson, you and your dog spend about ten minutes working on the lesson.

I recommend training your dog in ten-minute sessions. You can go week to week training him. The course is designed to build on the previous week's lesson. You and your dog can go as fast or slow as you feel comfortable.

Q. "I heard that you cannot start training a dog until he is 6 months old."

A. That is some of the worst advice that has ever been given to dog owners. You should start training immediately.

If you wait until the dog is six months old, he will have developed many unwanted behaviors that you'll now have to fix. It is much more difficult to work with a dog that has learned certain behaviors, than a dog that hasn't.

Think of a young puppy as a clean slate, there is nothing to erase. Now imagine a dog that is six months old and is displaying behavior problems such as jumping, pulling, chewing, etc. You have to re-teach that dog everything.

Traditional training methods cannot be used on a young puppy. A choke chain or pinch collar can physically injure him.

The methods that I use can be taught to a dog of any age, because I do not use force and pain.

Q. "I have been told that you should never use food to teach a dog obedience."

A. There are two ways to train a dog: positive motivation and negative motivation. Both methods are very powerful. There is one problem with negative motivation, it always has side effects.

I can teach you how to drive a car by yelling and screaming at you. You will learn but you will also have negative feelings towards me.

In the Home Study Course I will show you how to use positive motivation and when to use negative motivation.

Some dog trainers don't understand the difference between bribes and rewards. In my course you will learn how to use rewards to get maximum results from the training process. Plus you will learn the secret of the Premack Principle. Once you understand and learn how to apply it, you can get your dog to work without bribes.

You see, my system contains absolutely everything you need to start training your dog right now. Just about everything you need to know is already done for you.

You've answered my questions and I'm ready to start.

OK, So How Much Does All Of This Cost?

Well, realize that The Amazing Dog Training Man's Ultimate Online Dog Training Course could easily sell for much more than what I am asking. In fact, most dog training books and videos cost more than my online course. When you buy a book you are usually charged in the neighborhood of $20 to $50.

In fact, if you asked a top expert like myself to come to your home and personally train your dog for you, you'd be charged in the neighborhood of $1500 to $2500.

So, at bare bones minimum, you're getting more dog training advice than you would usually pay for.

Look, there's no need to reinvent the wheel. Everything is ready for you, completely turn-key, and all laid-out for you step-by-step.

Now, maybe you think this whole thing will cost you a fortune...but listen to this:

Your investment is tiny compared to the amount you would have to spend on dog training books, classes, and videos to get as much content as I am giving to you in The Amazing Dog Training Man's Ultimate Online Dog Training Course.

I believe the only way to build a great business is to over-deliver.

Once you start applying these secrets you'll see why The Amazing Dog Training Man's Ultimate Online Dog Training Course is probably the greatest dog training course ever crammed into one manual.
